Leading From the “Second Chair”

A Seminar for Associate Pastors and Deacons

In many larger congregations, associate pastors and deacons serve faithfully yet are often overlooked in favor of senior leadership. Their ministries—whether in preaching, teaching, pastoral care, or diaconal service—are essential to the life and health of the church, but too frequently they are undervalued or under-resourced. This two-day seminar is designed to affirm and educate associate church leaders for better ministry and living.

Presenter

Alina Gayeuski is an ordained pastor in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. She serves as part of the clergy team at Reformation Lutheran Church in Media, PA – a southwest suburb of Philadelphia.

Alina holds a Bachelor of Arts in Religion and Women’s Studies from Susquehanna University, a Master of Divinity from the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia (now United Lutheran Seminary), and a Doctor of Ministry from United Lutheran Seminary.

She is a member of the Leaderwise team whose mission is to foster spirit-filled leaders for lives of service. They empower leaders to lead with purpose, passion, and integrity. They believe that healthy leaders are the key to creating healthy organizations and are committed to improving the wellbeing and effectiveness of leaders across all sectors, with a special focus on church leaders.

Alina is a member of Young Clergy Women International and former board chair. She is proud to serve on the boards of Bear Creek Camp, the Domestic Abuse Project of Delaware County, the Stewardship of Life Institute, and the United Lutheran Seminary Alumni Association.
